

Tribes of North Dakota and the Pawnee Tribe of Oklahoma.

In 1995, human remains representing one individual were placed in the vehicle of James A. Vanderloo, a volunteer firefighter by person(s) unknown during a fire call near Pierre, SD. These human remains were turned over to the SARC by Mr. Vanderloo during the same year. No known individuals were identified. No associated funerary objects are present.

Based on cranial morphology, these human remains have been determined to be Native American. Craniometric measurements indicate these human remains are consistent with Pawnee or Mandan populations. Further, based on etchings on the remains indicative of plant roots, the manner of interment is consistent with the inhumation of traditional Mandan practice. Consultation with representatives of the Three Affiliated Tribes indicates their aboriginal lands included northern South Dakota and southern North Dakota along the Missouri River.

Based on the above mentioned information, officials of the South Dakota State Archaeological Research Center have determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (d)(1), the human remains listed above represent the physical remains of one individual of Native American ancestry. Officials of the South Dakota State Archaeological Research Center have also determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (e), there is a relationship of shared group identity which can be reasonably traced between these Native American human remains and the Three Affiliated Tribes of North Dakota.

This notice has been sent to officials of the Pawnee Tribe of Oklahoma and the Three Affiliated Tribes of North Dakota. Representatives of any other Indian tribe that believes itself to be culturally affiliated with these human remains and associated funerary objects should contact Renee Boen, Curator, South Dakota State Archaeological Research Center, P.O. Box 1257, Rapid City, SD 57709-1257; telephone: (605) 394-1936, before May 27, 1998. Repatriation of the human remains to the Three Affiliated Tribes of North Dakota may begin after that date if no additional claimants come forward.

Dated: April 21, 1998.
